

Notes for Podcast 13

The Legacy of Holyground 2007-2011

The concert at Bretton on the 5th May 2007 had revived many old friendships and Chris Coombs, Pete Taylor, Nick Dew, Clive Colling and Steve Channing decided to continue to play together. Clive and Steve dropped out, but Margaret Duke also an ex-Bretton student, joined the group which was called Quizzinglass. Two of the tracks can be found on YouTube.

Oh no no no - Quizzinglass - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aovhIIAKL30>

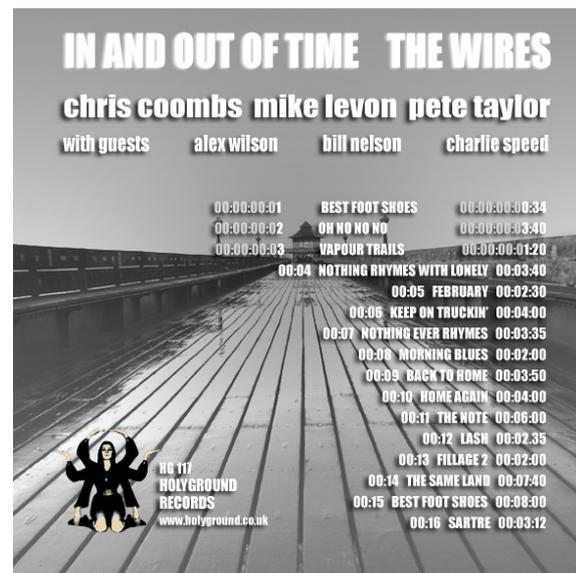

Driving into the Rain - Quizzinglass - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rcMg1fP-d8k>

Mike had written lyrics for several songs, and asked Pete Howells to write music for them. As Pete lived on the south coast, this collaboration was by email, sadly, not one of the songs was ever completed before Mike's death in 2011.

Throughout this period Mike, Chris and Pete had been working on a new album to be called 'In and Out of Time'. Most of the songs were close to completion, but were on different tracks on the computer, and only Mike knew how these related to each other. Sadly, it was impossible to restore most of these after Mike's death in 2011 and it has only been possible to save two tracks.

Mock-up of possible album cover for 'In and Out of Time'.

Mock-up of possible rear cover of 'In and Out of Time'